Faurot Men Take First Game 33-14 Over Louisville

By BOB GILBERT

The flashy, devastating runs by the captain Carl Walker along with the powerful defense line play gave the Murray State Thoroughbreds their initial 1955 victory of the University of Louisville 33-14 last Saturday night here in Murray.

Murray, after one quarter of complete frustration, rallied behind Walker and left an opening game crowd of nearly 5,000 spellbound. The score at the end of the first period found Louisville out in front by several points after Cardinal halfback Elmer Collins had driven the final six yards clinching a 32 yard drive.

The Thoroughbreds came to life in the second quarter after right halfback Dick Utley laid the finishing touches to an 84 yard drive. Fullback Cal Walls kicked the extra point and tied the score 7-7.

Midway in the period, second team quarterback Jerry Stripling opened a 50 yard touchdown march with a pass from midfield to end Calvin Vest on the six. On the following play, Stripling kept the ball on the option play and scooted six yards off tackle to move Murray out in front 13-7. Walls' conversion made it 14-7 with only 14 seconds remaining in the half.

Early in the third quarter, Murray recovered a Louisville fumble on the 22-yard line. Moments later, Carl Walker weaved across the goal to boost Murray's lead to 20-7.

Louisville then took the kickoff and seconds later scored on a 55 yard pass from quarterback Wally English to halfback Leonard Lyles. Following the conversion, the score stood at 20-14. With Murray in possession of the ball once again, Walker brought the crowd of 5,000 to its feet by scampering 33 yards for the game's fourth touchdown. At the end of the third period, the score was Murray 26, Louisville 14.

It was an evenly fought contest throughout the fourth quarter until the fabulous Walker broke loose on his final feat of the night. Throwing the fans into hysterics, he bobbed and weaved the way to an unbelievable 89 yard touchdown, reversing his field three times and eluding the entire Louisville team. On a direct handoff, Walker took the ball on the eleven yard line, moved to the right of the secondary, and after what seemed like an endless time, crossed the goal leaving a devastated path behind him. Al Giordano, a stalwart in the line all night long, kicked the extra point for what was the final score, 33-14.

In the statistical department, it was Walker's show as he picked up a total of 151 yards in 10 carries. The unsung backfield hero of the game could well be quarterback Jerry Stripling who passed and ran the Thoroughbreds into scoring position, in addition to being a masterful field general. Louisville's halfback Leonard Lyles was a standout for the Cardinals but he was tremendously outclassed by the entire Murray line, which was headed up by Al Giordano, Chester Caddas, Cal Vest, and Bill Hina.

Lineup: Murray ..... 0 14 12 7 - 33 Louisville ..... 7 0 7 0 - 14 Murray scoring - Touchdowns: Walker 3, Utley, Stripling. Conversions: Walls 2, Giordano. Louisville scoring - Touchdowns: Collins, Lyles. Conversions: Sowa (unofficial).

Ward Proposes New Plan For State Park Facilities; Would Halt Patronage There

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 19 — Creation of a non-profit operating organization to manage Kentucky state park facilities was proposed in an address here today by Henry Ward, state commissioner of conservation.

Ward's suggestions were outlined in an address on state parks at the annual convention here of the American Institute of Park Executives.

The people of Kentucky have millions of their dollars invested in state parks and their facilities, and they are entitled to the best possible management which can be provided," Ward declared. "Handling of the parks as political patronage is the surest way to stop the progress which has been made in recent years and to halt further beneficial development."

Ward said that he had planned to work for the creation of the operating organization in connection with a proposed $3,650,000 revenue bond issue for the construction of new facilities in the state parks.

The sale will continue without ceasing from this morning at 7:00 o'clock until Wednesday at midnight.

The store recently received the full car of appliances from the distributor, McGregor's in Memphis, Tennessee.

Free cold drinks will be on hand for prospective customers, and everyone is urged to visit the store sometime during the 66 hour period.

Many Poisoned At Postoffice Picnic

MANFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A health officer today blamed a tainted baked ham for the severe food poisoning of 175 persons Saturday.

Dr. Harry Wain, Hamilton County health officer said it was probably a baked ham, brought to a postman's picnic at 2 p.m. Saturday and left refrigerated for four hours before it was served.

He said the investigation would continue.

Some 175 persons, at the picnic for the families of postal workers, who ate the ham became ill about 7 p.m. The stricken people all made "wick enough to die" by the tainted meat crowded into General Hospital, taxing medical facilities to the limit until they were all treated.

None was seriously affected and most have already been released. Dr. Wain said some of those affected might remain ill "up to 48 hours," but most had recovered.

Emergency crews were called in at the Mansfield post office to take over operations until the poison victims could return to work.

Heavy Flooding Expected In Widespread Area On Coast

By ROBERT E. GATELY
United Press Staff Correspondent
MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. (AP) — Hurricane Ione, a rampaging tempest with winds up to 120 miles an hour, rammed the Eastern Seaboard today and bored north toward Norfolk and New York.

Just before it swept up the coast near this vacation resort, the awe-some howler tore the Diamond Shoals lightship from her moorings off lonely Cape Hatteras, endangering her crew of 15 men. They were ordered to "hold your position" at all costs.

A private weather expert warned that the New Jersey-New York City-Long Island area was in for "a rough and stormy night," perhaps the worst in its history.

No Deaths Yet
No deaths or injuries were reported in the first hours of Ione's assault on the seaboard, which already had absorbed the fury of two hurricanes this year. But failure of communications facilities made accurate checks impossible.

Lashing winds and mountainous waves tore the Diamond Shoals lightship from her moorings at 8:10 a.m. today and set her adrift at Ione's mercy.

The lightship was under standing orders to hold her post at all costs to warn other ships away from the rocky shallows some 18 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras light.

The light ship with 15 men aboard measured only 128 feet. "That's like a canoe out there today," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

ASHLAND, Ky. — The state's first closed-circuit medical television broadcast in color will be presented as part of the Kentucky State Medical Association's annual meeting Sept. 27-29 at Louisville.

Dr. Clyde C. Sparks, KSMMA president, said the eight hours of medical and surgical demonstrations transmitted by television will emanate from Louisville's General Hospital.

The postgraduate study opportunities which the meeting will make available to Kentucky doctors of medicine will be unsurpassed in the association's history," Sparks said.

In addition to the live television session, prominent physicians from Kentucky and the nation will read 40 scientific papers at specialized sessions during the meeting.

SHIPPING MOVING SOUTH

THE illegal, unauthorized, "goon-squad" strike which started on the New York water front and spread to other East Coast ports has been settled, at least temporarily.

We say "temporarily" because water front peace in New York has been just that for ten years, or ever since the International Longshoremen's Association (Independent) discovered it could break rules and laws with impunity.

This time it seems the longshoremen went a little too far and voted to return to work only to prevent their leaders from going to jail.

It seems the City Administration of New York wouldn't do anything about the strike, and this is no surprise with Robert Wagner as mayor. Nor would Governor Averell Harriman intervene.

It was the judiciary that had enough courage to end the strike. And it acted to back up its own injunction issued some ten days ago.

The New York strike was unlike any in history in that there was no grievance against any employer—no wage dispute, no dispute over hours, vacations, paid holidays, or insurance.

The union simply demanded that the two-state commission which runs the Port of New York, the world's greatest, be dissolved and let the governments of New York and New Jersey become the agents to bargain with the Union.

We don't know enough about the demand to make much comment on it, except to say we suspect the union considers the Democratic regime in New York far more friendly to organized labor than some members of the port commission who are undoubtedly hard-headed business men, rather than politicians.

What the authorities finally do about the troubles on the New York waterfront is anybody's guess. It certainly must do something before a great while for the sake of the economy of the city and the States of New York and New Jersey.

TFor the bald-faced fact is that the port has lost so much shipping in the last ten years it now handles less than 19 percent of the nation's foreign commerce, whereas during World War Two it handled over 40 percent. Prior to the war it handled 37 percent, so the war shipping accounted for comparatively little of the huge tonnage going in and out of New York.

The shipping New York is losing is going to Southern Ports. New Orleans is the second largest port in the country, and when the ship canal now under construction is finished many predict it will go ahead of New York in tonnage handled.

The problem faced by the Port of New York is just one more of a growing list of cases that prove what strong unions can do. Also it is proof of what can happen when a city and state administration put the support of organized labor above every other consideration.

Second Guessing

by BOB GILBERT

The National Champions of 1954 were U.G.A. and Ohio State. Both clubs went undefeated with 5-0 records. Many gridiron enthusiasts believe that the U.G.A. Bruins were undoubtedly the number one team. And their beliefs are reasonably founded - U.G.A. scored 367 points to their opponents' 40. That gives the Uelans an average of 41 points per game.

STILL WITH U.G.A.: They drew a total attendance of 218,304 in 1954 for an average home crowd of 63,673. The highest average attendance for last season was held by Ohio State (80,057 per game). Second was Michigan with 68,388. Then came U.C.L.A., Minnesota, Notre Dame, and Illinois, with only one win and eight conference losses, drew sixth position with an average attendance of 55,157.

It's no wonder that the Uelans were considered the 1954 champs. They run from the single wing to the right with an unbalanced line. Right end was Ronnie Louie, a fine pass receiver and blocker. Right tackle was All-American Jack Ellena; right guard, All-American Jim Salisbury; left guard, one the right side of center, All-Conference Sam Byghoshian; can Yes sir, a turtle could have gained yardage with that line up front to drive open a hole. Incidentally, last year's Uelans backfield looked something like this: Prime Valance (bb), Bob Stevens (TAR-AMERICAN Tailback), Al Bradley (bb), and Jim Decker (wb).

Ex-world heavy weight champions, Jersey Joe Walcott was a guest on Dennis James' September 12th show, "On Your Account". Joe hit the Jackpot for $2300 in cash prizes. The answer to the question was to do with the Broadway play, "Life With Father". With the September 12th mercury in the 50's, I was cordially listening and day-dreaming.

GROSSINGER, N.Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Rocky Marciano, "freshened" by rest and heavier eating on Friday's regular day off, was slated for three or four rounds of sparring in preparation for his heavyweight title defense against Archie Moore Tuesday night.

Al Colombo, assistant trainer and long-time buddy of the champion, said: "I'm sure he'll look better today. He'll be all right. We want him to be at his peak again Sunday."

Colombo admitted that Rocky was a "bit off" in his last previous sparring session on Thursday. "He was a bit too fine," he explained. "He weighed only 168 pounds after the workout."

The wind was up to 54 miles east by the official government radio station in Buenos Aires. I said the offer was made in an effort to avoid further bloodshed, but at least one rebel warship was reported to have already started a bombardment of Mat del Plata, a summer resort area 250 miles southeast of Buenos Aires.

Lucero's invitation to the rebel leaders asked that negotiations start immediately, but there was no immediate reply from the army and navy officers heading the revolt.

A radio broadcast, believed to be from the rebel fleet, had announced that Buenos Aires would be brought under fire at 12 noon EDT unless Peron resigned.

The broadcast said the cruiser De Julio, formerly the USS Boise, already had begun shelling the naval artillery school at Mar del Plata.

Rebels Claim Victory
Another radio broadcast identified as coming from the heavy cruiser 17 De Octubre, with the rebel fleet in the River Plate, announced that "at 12 noon EDT the bombardment of Buenos Aires will start."

The message was directed to Radio Pichero, the government station 20 miles outside Buenos Aires. Atmospheric conditions made it impossible to hear any more of the rebel fleet's transmission.

The rebel radio at Puerto Belgrano urged loyal troops to join the revolt, saying that "the revolution is triumphant."

Gen. Julio Alberto Lagos, 54, commander of the powerful Argentine 2nd Army and head of the revolutionary movement in the provinces of San Luis, Mendoza and San Juan, told the United Press in Santiago by telephone that:

"Thanks to direct communications I have received, I know that the situation for the revolutionary movement is progressing favorably in diverse sections of the country."

Rebel stations broadcast a series of demands today that Peron resign, and called on workers throughout the nation to join the revolt. A broadcast from the rebel station LV2 at Cordoba reminded workers that not one labor leader died in the Plaza de Mayo fighting in Buenos Aires in the abortive uprising against Peron last June 16.

now is over $2,000,000 a year. It is in the public interest that they be operated in a business-like fashion, and I am convinced that cannot happen under political management.

"I also am convinced that leadership for the development of the best plan for developing and operating the parks must come from outside the realm of political office-seekers and office-holders, and that a deep and continuing interest in them should be maintained by those who have no personal axes to grind," Ward declared.

Won't Answer

A LIBRARIAN from Wayne, Pa., Mrs. Mary Knowles is shown as she refused to answer questions by the Senate internal security subcommittee in Washington on the grounds the committee has no right to quiz her. Named as a Communist by Herbert Philbrick in 1953, Mrs. Knowles swore that she is not a Communist and "for many years" had "no connection" with groups on the attorney general's list of subversives. ## First Income Tax Hit Lightly

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — You wouldn't believe how lightly the income tax flicked the pocket-book in the first years after William Howard Taft successfully proposed it (1906) and Woodrow Wilson began to collect it (1913).
From 108 to 1913 Congress submitted and the state completed ratification of the 16th or income tax amendment, the first time the Constitution had been changed in 43 years.

Likes U. S. Troops

THE SECRETARY GENERAL of the French Socialist party, Guy
Mollet tells a National Press club luncheon in Washington, D. C., that he hopes American troops will remain in France because he believes Russia never will make war as long as she is sure the United States would fight. He pointed out there were no U. S. forces in Europe when Germany struck in 1918
and 1939. (International)

The Hoover administration's 1932 revenue act started taxes up again. But it remained for another war, FDR and former President Truman to show what really could be done in this field of individual income taxation.
Taxes Hiked in 1942
FDR's 1942 revenue act took $733 from the $5,000 family which used to pay $10 and the 1944 act hiked it to $755. The $50,000 family paid $439,901 and $442,985, respectively.
The revenue service estimates that the effective rate on a $5,000 net income under the 1913 act was two-tenths of one percent, ranging up to one percent on $25,000 and five percent on $50,000. Forty years later the comparable effective rates were 11.5 percent, 28 percent and 82.2 percent.
